Android

Should I install anti-virus software on a tablet

For Android tablet and phones there are several Anti-viruses that can be installed. It is recommended to have an anti-virus but not essential.

The anti-viruses we recommend are AVG or Avast. Both offer a free and paid version for Android. The free version uses advertisements to collect revenue so if you do not want adverts you will need to pay for the software. Both can be downloaded through the Google Play store.
